ABOUT ME:

I am a dedicated legal professional with a strong academic background and a passion for the intersection of law and technology. Holding a Master of Laws (LLM) degree in International Law, I am currently pursuing a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Information Technology Law, showcasing my commitment to advancing knowledge in this specialized field. As an Assistant Professor of Law at JSS Law College, I bring a wealth of expertise and experience to the classroom. My teaching philosophy is marked by a deep understanding of legal principles and a keen interest in cutting-edge legal issues surrounding technology, data privacy, and cybersecurity. I am known for engaging teaching style, mentorship of students, and dedication to fostering critical thinking and analytical skills among future legal professionals. Beyond academia, I am actively involved in writing of research articles, conferences, and publications that contribute to the evolving landscape of information technology law and other laws.
